We had to make quick presentation with our project. The teacher liked that we used story telling in the beginning and ending part of our presentation, but she mentioned that we should look out of the non-verbal communications as well (like ways of standing).

Today we presented our progress on our group project to the teacher and the whole class. So far we have made the home page, 'Food' page, the articles for the 'Food' page, and the 'Social' page. The teacher said that we need to give a padding around the content body, and he also told us to remove the borders outside of the article cards in the 'Food' page. He also told us to improve the positioning of elements in the article pages, to make the main content more centered and focused on. On top of the things that we still need to work on, he said that we are on track so that's good.
